DEAR MS COOPER

I wish to apply for the junior developer that I saw advertised on your corporate official website. I am third-year student at ITMO University studying Programming Engineering. I interested a lot in developing software for Windows and believe that I have the qualities required to start my career as a software developer.

I am up to date on all computer programming languages and terms and my data entry skills are fast and efficient. I am incredibly organized and very detail oriented; I rarely make errors and know what even a small mistake can mean to a project. My exemplary programming skills along with my dedication and professionalism make me a well-suited candidate for your junior developer position. I am also a throughout communicator and work well as a part of a team in addition to my ability for self-direction. I would be thrilled to be able to bring my skills and professionalism to Unexisting Corporation as a junior developer.

I've a lot of experience in programming as a part of a team – I've got it while studying in my university and creating tiny software projects using sets of languages and technologies, such as control version systems, automatic build systems, integrated development environments and so on. I believe, that the ability to communicate with other people will be very useful for fast and effective developing high-quality software projects.

My technical expertise include proficiency in developing mostly for Windows, good theoretical knowledge of principles of two programming languages – Java and C#, superficial knowledge and few practical experience of using some other languages – Python, PHP, JavaScript, C, C++, VisualBasic, ActionScript 3.0.

YOURS SINCERELY,

Dmitrii Plyukhin
